2. PURPOSE OF THE MANUAL

The purpose of this Manual is intended to foster a culture of transparency and accountability within the Financial Services Industry as a whole, by giving effect to the right to information that is required for the exercise or protection of any right and to actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect their rights. In order to promote effective governance of private bodies, it is necessary to ensure that everyone is empowered and educated to understand their rights in terms of the Promotion of Access to Information Act (“PAIA”) in order for them to exercise their rights in relation to public and private bodies. Section 9 of PAIA however recognises that such right to access information cannot be unlimited and should be subject to justifiable limitations, including, but not limited to:

- limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;
- commercial confidentiality; and
- effective, efficient and good governance; and in a manner which balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

This manual serves as an Information Guide, which sets out the procedures to be followed, as well as the contact details and other relevant information, to allow requestors to give effect to their rights, in terms of PAIA and POPI.

PAIA (“the Act”) grants private and public bodies the right to request access to records. Private bodies (such as individuals) that request access to records must be able to show that the record is required for the exercise or protection of a right. Public bodies (such as government departments) that request access to records must be able to demonstrate that the request is in the public’s interest.

A request for information in this document will be called a PAIA request. The Act sets out the procedure and fees when a PAIA request is made.

This manual is compiled in terms of section 51 of the Act and sets out the kinds of records held by FGL and guides you how to submit a PAIA request.

Annexure 1 sets out the legislation with which FGL complies;
Annexure 3 sets out the request form to be used when requesting a record; and Annexure 4 sets out the fees payable when requesting a record.

This Manual can be accessed on the FGL public website.

No notice(s) have been published on the categories of records that are automatically available without a person having to request access in terms of PAIA.

10. STEPS TO CONSIDER BEFORE SUBMITTING A REQUEST

Please consider the following steps before submitting a request:

Step 1 - Are you entitled to use the Act to request the access to information?

Please take note that section 7(1) of the Act states that the Act does not apply to record, if that record is requested for the purpose of criminal or civil proceedings or the production of or access to that record is provided for in terms of any other law.

If section 7 (1) of the Act applies, you may not bring a PAIA request, and you must use the rules and procedures for discovery of information in the relevant legal forum in proceedings in which you are involved.

Step 2 - Does the information exist in the form of a record?

The Act does not require anyone to create a record which is not yet in existence at the time that the request is made. The Act cannot be used to obtain reasons for a decision taken by FGL if such reasons are not in the form of a record.

Step 3 - Is FGL in control of the record?

If the record requested is no longer in FGL's possession, then you must apply for access to the record from the party under whose possession it currently is.

11. HOW TO MAKE A REQUEST FOR ACCESS – SECTION 51(e)

Access to records held by FGL may be accessed by requesters only once the prerequisite requirements for access have been met.

a. Personal Requester

A personal requester is a requester who is seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester. FGL will voluntarily provide the requested information or give access to any record with regard to the requester's personal information. No access fee for reproduction of the information shall be payable.

b. Other Requester

This requester (other than a personal requester) is entitled to request access to information on third parties. However, FGL is not obliged to voluntarily grant access. The requester must fulfil the prerequisite requirements for access in terms of the Act. No access fee for reproduction of the information shall be payable.

If you are entitled to request a record, please follow the following steps:

The requester must complete the form set out on Annexure 3 and submit it together with a request fee, to the Information Officer, at the addresses set out in clause 3 of this manual.

The form must:

- i. provide sufficient particulars to enable the Information Officer to identify the record/s requested and to identify the requester,
- ii. indicate which form of access is required,
- iii. specify a postal address or fax number of the requester in the Republic,
- iv. identify the right that the requester is seeking to exercise or protect, and
- v. provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right.

If in addition to a written reply, the requester wishes to be informed of the decision on the request in any other manner, the requester must state that manner and the necessary particulars to be informed in the other manner.

If the request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request, to the reasonable satisfaction of the Information Officer.

12. PRESCRIBED FEES

The Act provides for two types of fees, namely:

- a. a request fee which will be the standard fee; and
- b. an access fee which must be calculated by taking into account reproduction costs, search and preparation time and cost, as well as postal costs.

The requester, other than a personal requester¹ must pay the prescribed R50 request fee before submitting the request and provide proof of payment which must accompany the request form.

If the search for and preparation of the record requires more than the prescribed hours as set out in the regulations, the information officer will request you to pay as a deposit in the prescribed amount which is a portion of the access fee which would be payable if the request is granted. You may ask for a refund of the deposit if your request for access is refused.

The information officer may withhold the record until the fee has been paid.

If a PAIA request is granted, an access fee is payable for reproduction and for certain preparation and for any time reasonably required in excess of the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record for disclosure.

13. CONSIDERING YOUR REQUEST.

Subject to the extensions provided for in the Act, PAIA requests will be processed within 30 days, unless you have stated special reasons which satisfy the Information Officer that circumstances dictate that the above periods should not be complied with.

You will be informed as to whether your request has been granted or denied.

The main grounds for the refusal of request relates to the protection of the privacy of third parties (who is a natural person) and which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of that natural person, or the mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party, if the record contains:

- i. Trade secrets of that third-party
 - ii. financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, the disclosure of which could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that third party, and information disclosed in confidence by third party to FGL, if the disclosure could put that third party as a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
- b. Requests will also be refused where it involves:

¹ A personal requester means a request seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester

- i. a record that enjoys mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties protected in terms of an agreement,
- ii. mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property; mandatory protection of records which would be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings;
- iii. commercial activities of FGL, which may include trade secrets, financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of FGL;
- iv. information that could put FGL at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition,
- v. a computer programmer which is owned by FGL and which is protected by copyright; and
- vi. research information owned by FGL or a third party if its disclosure would reveal the identity of FGL or the researcher or the subject matter of the research which would place the research and a serious disadvantage

The Information Officer may decide to defer the release of a record to a requester if that record will be published within 90 days or if the record is required by law to be published but is yet to be.

14. WHAT DO I DO IF MY REQUEST IS DENIED?

FGL has no internal appeal procedures. The decision of the Information Officer is final. If your request is denied, you may apply to a court with appropriate jurisdiction for relief.
